Martin Webb Questions Judicial Judgement In Assault Case

Martin (Marty) Webb, president of the Thousand Oaks Merchants Association and chairman of the Albany Traffic and Safety Commission, has demanded an answer from Judge Harold B. Hove, Alameda County Superior Court judge, as to why his (Webb's) assailant, a felon with a record of 17 convictions, was let off with probation.

Webb has also asked Judge Hove why he apparently overlooked the recommendations of the county probation department in dealing with the defendant, Larry M. Spengler. The department had recommended against probation and had asked for a commitment to Vacaville for observation.

Webb wrote to Hove: "I was struck three or four times by his fists and after hitting the ground and losing consciousness was additionally kicked in the face several times. In fact, when the police arrived, he was still kicking me in the face."

Immediately following the Albany incident, Webb was taken to Herrick hospital where his condition was listed as serious. The doctor stated that there was internal bleeding into the "jelly" of the left eye and Webb says he had no vision but could only distinguish light from darkness. An eye specialist was called to supervise treatment. As a result of two broken teeth sustained during the beating, Webb has been informed by a dentist that he may lose the nerves of the teeth.

"The most galling omission," wrote Webb to Judge Hove, "from your order was your failure to provide even restitution to the victim, again in defiance of the probation department's recommendation. This is no small item, since the damages are already in excess of $1,000.

"How long can an individual break the law and receive probation, especially when his victim is not a piece of property that can be replaced but a human being who lacks the ability to regenerate a new left eye or grow another set of teeth. . . ?

In making an inquiry into the case, Webb has also determined that the Albany Police Dept. "has over 20 other reports involving the defendant's violent conduct" including alleged battery, assault with a deadly weapon and attempted rape.

Under Groundbreaking for Solano

Dr. Whitlock spoke to the club a couple of years ago on the subject of food values and sensible eating habits. The members recall a most entertaining and valuable program.

Drive Carefully This Week-end

Have a safe, happy Labor Day holiday.

Is the number of deaths during holiday periods really higher than non-holiday times? The answer is yes. Both deaths and death rates are higher during holidays. For traffic deaths, the number occurring during five holidays over the three years 1966-68 was 21 percent higher than would have been normal for non-holidays at the same time of the year. Over these same holidays, vehicle travel was 4 percent higher. Because deaths increased more percentage-wise than travel, death rates averaged 16 percent higher during the holidays.

Considering the number of under-influence-of-alcohol drivers who will be on the road, your best bet for staying out of trouble is to drive defensively, and to consider following these rules:

1. Have all occupants of your car wear a safety belt.
2. Make certain all doors are locked.
3. Maintain a safe following distance. Drunks often slam on their brakes for no reason.
4. On the freeway, try to leave yourself an "out" — an escape hatch if some nut suddenly tries to occupy the space your car is already in. Don't ever pass between two cars. If something happens, where do you go?
5. Drive as if your family were in the other car.

Camera Club Competition

Albany Camera Club members will meet for competition Thursday, Aug. 28, at 8 p.m. at Veterans Memorial Building, 1325 Portland Ave.

Fidelis White Shrine 60 will hold a stated meeting Monday, Aug. 25, at 8 p.m. with Worthy High Priestess Blanche Nelson and Watchman of Shepherds Joseph P. Sanchez in the East. Traffic Study

Pierce Problem Pondered By Albany City Council

Two actions were taken by the Albany City Council at the regular session Monday night to alleviate the upcoming complications that the opening of the new White Front complex may cause on Pierce St.

Pierce St., a logical approach to the new shopping area under construction in Richmond, is not easily accessible to both north and southbound traffic. And while designed for legal loads, large truck-trailer loads can cause damage and danger to other smaller off streets of narrow dimensions.

The motion was passed that a 8,000 lb. load limit be placed for vehicular carriers and a study of the traffic and safety problems were referred to City Administrator James B. Turner and the Traffic and Safety Commission for recommendations for future action by the Council.

In other action, Police Chief Jensen was granted permission to replace the seventeen year old Albany ambulance with a new one. No bids are necessary for the vehicle, according to the findings of the last three city attorneys. The city budget carries a $7,400 allocation for the purchase. At small added expense, Councilman Lewis Howell suggested a partition between the body and driving unit for safety.

Pre-School Registration

Registration for the fall semester of the Albany Parent Nursery School will be held Wednesday morning, Sept. 10, from 9:30 to 11 a.m. and on Thursday evening, Sept. 11, at 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. in the Nursery School on Monroe St., University Village.

Scholarships are available. Parents of tots already accepted are advised that Thursday evening from 7:30 to 10 is orientation and is the first evening meeting to be attended.

gested a partition between the body and driving unit for safety. Howell praised the service of the Albany unit: "This is the fine service we have," he said.

A business license was denied Reverend C. B. Turner, pastor of Guidance Baptist Church of Richmond to solicit funds and tickets for the purpose to help needy children obtain school clothing following the recommendation of Chief Jensen. It fell under the category of a lottery or raffle, which is in violation of Albany law. Howell pointed out that the Council is not again churches or the charitable contribution they make to the underprivileged; he intimated that wording could be changed to read "donations."

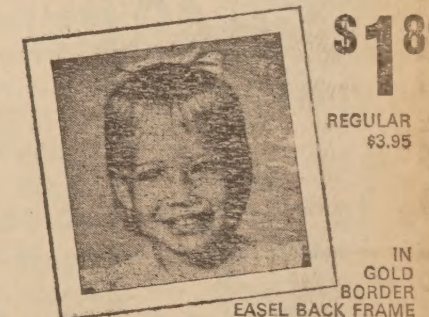

A new date for public hearing on street lighting was set for September 8. A 25 foot yellow zone was authorized in the block on the north side of C between San Pablo and Adams St.

Councilman Howell informed the Council that he received telephone call from Mrs. Kath Zahn that she slipped over shrub cuttings on her street, slipped to keep from falling, tripped in a hole on city property and fell, severely bruising herself. Howell drove her to the Herrick hospital for treatment and examination. He moved the city insurance carrier be notified. The motion was carried.

The resolution authorizing the mayor to execute an agreement with the Albany Unified School District for an after school recreation program was passed unanimously. The agreement is on a 50-50 cost basis.

Under the Good of the City, Ralph Buckwalter asked about better lighting for Memorial Park. Turner replied that it was presently under study in a par evaluation. Mrs. Edith Sherb spoke on the danger of large trucks turning off Pierce on Washington, going west to Cleveland. Twice, near accidents happened. The situation, Council assured her, will be taken into consideration under the proposed Pierce St. study.

Home Reference Guides Available at Library

Any and all material and services offered by the Contra Costa Library System are available to the Albany Public Library now that the Albany Public Library is a branch of the Alameda Library System.

"Home Reference Books in Print," a guide to more than 50 English language dictionaries, general world atlases, and some 125 other reference books, has been added to the reference section of the Central Library in Pleasant Hill and major branches of the Contra Costa County Library System.

Each dictionary is evaluated on the basis of cost, age suitability and purpose, authority, up-to-dateness, and contents. The atlases are rated against similar criteria, adding categories for total map pages, types of maps, indexing, and population statistics. Ratings are given for atlases, child guides, hobby books, histories, literary anthologies, and other reference books.

The book includes hints for building up a home reference library, a subject of frequent inquiry, according to Mrs. Inez Dolbear, head of the Central Library Reference Services. Another aid to library patrons seeking aid in acquiring home reference books is a bookmark form book list entitled "Suggestions for a Home Reference Library," which lists selected basic works with publishers and prices of both paperback and hardcover editions.

SENIOR CITIZENS

846 Masonic Ave.

By Minnie Ingraham

The autumnal equinox will be upon us before we realize and what do we have to show for it? I haven't even finished my spring cleaning yet... if the truth were known, I haven't started yet. But who has time for such menial tasks when the outdoors beckons towards another good trip, to a historic hotel in Sonoma for a delicious lunch including a famous "specialty" of the house, and then thru a cheese factory in Petaluma? Call 526-3078 for reservations on this, for Sept. 30, as it may prove an "open sesame" for the mystery trip later on.

Speaking of trips one of our quiet, sedate, old-time members threw caution to the winds and embarked on a trip to her homeland, Italy. Our own Louise deMonte has just returned, and in between coughs she acquired crossing the Atlantic, says this is the best place of all. She doubts if she would care to spend the rest of her days in sunny Italy.

Another of our members, who was called to Illinois because of a death in the family, writes that it is unbearably hot and humid, and Celia Chilton will be glad to return to our happy little air-conditioned hamlet.

Our genial Jeanne has added an innovation to our Agley party and it seems to have met with favorable response. Get in on the next one, Tuesday, Sept. 2, by calling for a reservation at 526-1601. A delicious catered lunch and oodles of fun and prizes to follow.

On Tuesday, Aug. 26, we shall have the pleasure of viewing some films made during a trip to the Orient, and we expect to see many familiar faces. Show begins at 1:30 and is open to non-members, so come and bring a couple of friends and neighbors.

The craft class is knee-deep in lovely things for the holidays, entrancing to look at and fun to make. Wednesdays for this and pinocle instruction for those who want in the afternoon, all welcome. Bring a sandwich and have coffee with us from our beautiful golden pouring pitchers.

We're still knitting for Oak Knoll paraplegics and we don't make enough noise to disturb the bridge players on Friday afternoons.

Our sincere thanks to the kind and compassionate people who read our appeal and brought in several canes. May you never need one, but several of our members will have to have one to get around after release from the hospital. That's 30.

A reception followed at Southland Community hall. The mother of the bride wore an ice pink ensemble and white orchid while the bridegroom's mother was attired in a light blue sheath with jacket and orchid corsage.

Following a wedding trip to Southern California, they are at home in Hayward.

The bride, who is employed by Pacific Telephone, is a graduate of Arroyo High school in San Lorenzo and attended California State college at Hayward. Her husband, an Albany High school graduate, is a senior at California State and plans to become a teacher.
